Universal, automated content monitoring

All posts, comments, and images in the student community are monitored in real time by our automatic flagging system.

GetSet universal content monitoring includes two categories:

1. Restricted: Our set of words and phrases that are never allowed on GetSet under any circumstances. Posts or comments using one of our restricted terms are flagged and automatically hidden from the community.
2. Watch list: Our set of words and phrases that triggers the post or comment to be flagged for review and may also be hidden from the community at the client's discretion. A partner can have words or phrases added to the Watch list at any time so that they can stay on the pulse of topics that matter to them.

Student profile photos in GetSet are also vetted for propriety. Inappropriate images (violent, of a sexual nature, etc.) are flagged by the monitoring system, removed, and the student is notified.

Prompt 7. Overcoming challenges

Never Give Up!

I had a terrible 4 years previously. I was found with a blood clot in my leg that almost killed me. After that 5 months later I had a surgery on my stomach, which would be the 1st out of the next 4. In the middle of those surgeries I had a baby boy. My wife took care of me at the same time while being pregnant, magnificent WOMAN! After all the surgeries I finally had to get a new job, lost my last 3 jobs because of the surgeries, as much as people would say it was not. I could not lift anymore, 2 surgeries on my shoulder, plus the 4 on my stomach left me in a very bad situation and almost homeless. Fought back, now I go to school full-time, Dad full-time, take my son to school and pick him up, and work part-time. It was a hell of a hump to get over, still have about another year and half to finally get my BS and move on.

Immediate notifications

If a post is flagged for any reason, an automated ticket is immediately generated to both the partner and GetSet with all content information for your records—timestamp, post information, student information, and options to view the entirety of a student's history on GetSet. Levels of severity or interest are set to client standards and the client determines recipients of any flagged content based on their internal policies and protocols.

Easy to set up

We spend the time at launch to understand your protocols, your behavioral assessment team requirements, offer options, and then build a system that tailors to your needs—always being able to adjust should changes be needed.

We preserve all post history in our data, so you can reference it at any time.
